

P.S. Who Are You? - Act I, Scene II, Aria: Look But Don't Touch

M. Bulteau

Allegro ♩ = 135

Baroness

10

You - oo - oo! You! ——— Young man!

13

I know I've drunk a bit too much, Still, — no ma - ter

16

what's your plan: Look but don't touch! Look but don't touch!

19

Look but don't touch! You may look but don't touch! ———

22

Don't ——— touch! At ——— 25

least — not around, here! If you want ——— we can go up - stairs... Don't — really mind if some - bo - dy cares...

28

31

No, no - bo - dy cares! One more glass for the lad - dy, please!

35

Thank you, thank — you ve - ry much! How I love be - ing such a tease! ——— Look but don't touch! Look but don't touch!

38

2
41

Look but don't touch! You may look but don't touch!

44

Don't touch! I do as I please!

48

I've come here to have fun on my own, And not as a prize to be shown! A toast! I came on my own! A-las, I feel I'm a-lone... Per-haps a bit of fun

51

55

58

To night, No harm can be done! Not with that one!

61

Nei-ther that one! It's so hard so hard to choose!

64

Ba - rons, earls, dukes and counts, and such... Sha - llow rich men don't need a muse! They may look but don't touch! Look but don't touch!

67

70

Look but don't touch! Look but don't touch! There is ne-ver one de-cent man a - round, Like a brave good-look-ing sol - dier — back from war! So instead we have a - va - ri - cious clowns, Like the man — I ma - rried! A

73

76

79

 use - less man I can't stand a - ny - more! I can't stand a - ny - more! I want to lift the 86

82

 bore! — A toast to fun!

91

 Much more than one! Come toast to fun —

96

 One more glass for the la - dy please! Thank you thank — you

99

 ve - ry much! How I love be - ing such a tease! —

102

 Look but don't touch! Look but don't touch! Look but don't touch! You may 105

 look but don't touch! — Don't —

4
108

touch! At least not a-round here!

111

If you want we can go up - stairs... Don't rea-lly mind if some-bo - dy cares... If you want I'll un-do my hair! Un - der the dress guess what I wear!

114

117

120

want to have some fun!

123

I've har - dly be-gun!

126

It's my choice, thank you ve - ry much! The rest can look, not touch!

129
